Dear Mr. Khan,

Thank you for your interest in coverage by the International Political Science Abstracts.

I have reviewed Volumes I, II and III available on your website, and am pleased to say that we would like to cover the Global Regional Review (GRR), on a selective basis. We select those articles which we believe are pertinent for researchers in Political Science and proximate disciplines. We believe that among the strengths of the Abstracts is this focus, which facilitates more efficient research.

There are several conditions, which we hope you can fulfill. Please create a complimentary subscription for the quarterly print edition, to be sent regularly upon publication to:

The Editor
International Political Science Abstracts
27, rue St. Guillaume

FRANCE

Please send us the current volume, and future volumes as they are published.

The abstracts we read were very long. We would very much appreciate it if you instruct authors to respect the international standard of 125-130 words maximum; it is surely in the authors' interest to encourage readers to read the full article, not just a lengthy abstract. We point out that all abstracts are subject to professional editing for clarity and brevity.

Please complete the authorization form below and return it to us at <ipsa-aisp@sciencespo.fr>, where any future communication should be addressed.

I agree to place the International Political Science Abstracts on our complimentary mailing list, until further notice. Permission is hereby granted to International Political Science Abstracts to print abstracts published in our journal and make them available through both the print edition (published by Sage) and the IPSA database (on the EBSCO and Ovid websites.)
